The amount of arable soil in America is greater than in Europe, Asia and Africa put together; and can therefore sustain more lives. The productive soil in the Old World is ten millions square miles, and in the New eleven millions.

A Jersey City congregation has invited its pastors to resign because he lacks magnetism. The wise pastor will at once see the necessity of concealing a pair of galvanic batteries in his boots.—Philadelphia Chronicle-Herald.

The Deadwood Times is pained to observe that certain young men and married ladies are forgetting that "familiarity breeds contempt." It is also liable to breed something else, and—remember the story of the man who ate green cucumbers.

Benjamin Franklin, notwithstanding Thomas Hughes' intimation that nothing is known about him in England, is one of the few men whose place of residence in London is thought worthy of commemoration. Whoever walks down Craven street will see a medallion in front of a house there with these words inscribed on it, "Lived here, Benjamin Franklin, printer, philosopher, and statesman; born 1706; died, 1790."

One of the effects of the death of the prince imperial is seen in the recent French elections, where republicans have been chosen in the place of Bonapartists. These elections indicate another thing, that the expectation of the loss to the imperialists being a gain to the legitimists have not been realized. It is the republic that gains.

THE CURRENCY QUESTION.

Notwithstanding the fact that thousands of our people are at present worrying themselves almost to death over this vexed question, even to the extent of neglecting their business, their homes and their duty to their families, there are still thousands upon thousands of smart, hard working, intelligent men pouring into the great Arkansas Valley, the Garden of the West, where the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad offers them their choice of 2,500,000 acres of the finest farming lands in the world at almost their own prices. If you do not believe it, write to the undersigned, who will tell you where you can get a cheap land exploring ticket, and how, at a moderate expense, you can see for yourself and be convinced.
